

Dear Families,

We hope you enjoyed reading the school's recent Ofsted Report and feel as proud of your child/ren as we do. We truly appreciated the recognition for how we support our most vulnerable learners identified under SEND, as well as the acknowledgment of the positive impact our digital approach has on the achievements of all pupils.

As we progress through this half term, our children continue to focus on our school value, Collaboration. Over the past couple of weeks, I have witnessed countless wonderful examples of teamwork and unity from children of all ages.

Next week promises to be another exciting time for our school, as we prepare to host visitors from Austria, the Netherlands, and Denmark. Our pupils will have the incredible opportunity to present their learning to 80 European colleagues from the educational and technology sectors over Thursday and Friday.

We look forward to showcasing the hard work and enthusiasm of our children during this special event.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs Ferla and the PWP Team

SCHOOL VALUES

The new focus value this term is Collaboration.

EYFS- Reception have been working together as a team to keep their classrooms tidy. They have been helping each other tidy up their resources at the end of their learning.

KS1- Year 1 have been using collaboration when learning the words and actions to their story 'The Naughty Bus'. They working in pairs and groups to help each other remember the story to help them in their writing next week.

KS2- Year 3 have been working together in their Science lessons when exploring food groups. They have been making food pyramids thinking about the diets of humans and other animals.
