

Dear Families,

We're thrilled to build upon the successful start we've had to the new academic year. It was fantastic to see so many of you at our year group coffee mornings recently. We hope you found these sessions informative and valuable. For those who couldn't attend, the office team will be sending out all PowerPoints soon.

Our Year 6 children benefited from a workshop led by 'Gangs Against Violence' again this year. This important session educated our children about the risks associated with gang involvement and provided strategies and trusted adults to turn to if they ever feel unsafe.

Looking ahead, next week promises to be another eventful one. We kick off with Year 6 parent workshops, offering a detailed overview of the statutory SATs tests our Year 6 children will be taking in May. Later in the week, we are excited to host Apple professionals from their global team. They'll have the opportunity to meet our amazing children and witness first hand how technology enhances their learning experience.

Finally, I would like to thank our community for their patience on Thursday with a slightly delayed opening of the school gates. Thank you also to the parents and carers who informed us of an incident unfolding before the end of the school day. We will always utilise our safeguarding processes to keep our children and community safe, this is always of first priority.

Thank you for your continued support and involvement in our school community.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs Ferla and the PWP Team

SCHOOL VALUES

The new focus value this term is Pride.

EYFS- Reception have been taking pride in their classroom and garden, learning how to tidy away when a job has finished and making sure everything goes back in the right place.

KS1- Year 1 have been showing pride in their writing, learning how to use the new lines in their writing books. Keep up the great work!

KS2- Year 5 had their 'Maya Madness' launch day this week and demonstrated pride throughout their workshops. They were really interested in learning more throughout the term.
